Jacques Viau

ISIQ Director and Senior Consultant, Information Security Expert

After holding positions as Security Director of CRIM and CRIM-CTL, Jacques Viau became Director of Operations at H+A Computer Forensic Inc. briefly before joining ISIQ. Mr. Viau was previously a security and privacy consultant at IBM. He specializes in information security and computer forensics, with more than 30 years' experience with the police department of the Communauté urbaine de Montréal, including 18 years as an investigator. During the past five years, he founded and supervised the high-tech crime investigation unit.

Mr. Viau has a vast amount of experience in conducting security evaluations, electronic tracking, computer forensics and investigations in a computer environment. He has participated in the investigations of over 1,000 computer crime cases. By coordinating and monitoring the server security panel in various client environments, his responsibility for technical quality control has greatly increased his computer security knowledge.

Mr. Viau has often been invited to share his information security knowledge and experience at conferences, on television and radio and in the print media.
